1. The ARC agreed that there were no urgent requirements for coverage of  However,  of the Office of Current Intelligence called attention to the tension in the area and pointed to the fact that there is no collection available to keep abreast of developments on the critical airfields in  where one would expect indications of hostile intent. He referred to the Watch Committee's views on this matter in support of the concern of his Office that periodic checking of these airfields would be in order. The Chairman requested that the names of the airfields be given to him for discussion with the SA/PD/DCI.

4. It was the view of the ARC that at the moment, and in the light of the recent [REDACTED] coverage of the [REDACTED] there were no urgent requirements for TALENT coverage of that area. 25X1X4

Highest Priority Requirements

5. In the course of the review of highest priority requirements, it was agreed that the Air Force would present to a working group on Monday, 15 December, in the office of the Chairman, an opening statement for the new paper on highest priority requirements and that each agency would have available the specific list of targets which it believed should be included. Further steps in the development of a new paper on priority requirements would be determined in the course of that discussion.
